

Meaningful Involvement

We have an active Board of Directors and Committees that look for fresh ideas.

"At my first meeting, a SPIM member (who became a friend and is still my friend today) asked me to be on a panel presentation the next year. After that presentation, the SPIM president asked me if I would be willing to serve as a board member and officer. And I find that sequence to be very representative of what occurs in SPIM."

New members can become vital members of the SPIM community. Members who prefer a more limited role are welcome for the knowledge and expertise that they bring to our meetings. We also have a membership category for doctoral students.

Interested in learning more?

Go to our website: www.spim.org

Ready to join?

Go to the membership tab on our website. Download, complete, and email your application and CV to our membership chair, Sarah R. Early, Psy.D., at searly@cphp.org.

(Please do not send paper copies.)

Questions?

If you have questions about your particular situation, feel free to call Sarah at (303) 916-6232.

Membership Benefits

- SPIM provides the only training for psychologists new to management positions, taught by psychologists with extensive management experience.
- Mentorship around management and career issues.
- SPIM ListServ—available to members only to communicate about research, practice, leadership, and consulting.
- LinkedIn Discussion Group—sponsored by SPIM, and open to psychologists around the world.
- SPIM on YouTube—a place for your video clips for all to see.
- The Psychologist Manager Journal (TPMJ) - quarterly peer reviewed publication with articles of interest to people like us. Now published by APA.
- We are an independent association, but our strong relationship with APA provides additional benefits, including PsychAlert, full online access to TPMJ content, and APA Journals' Facebook and Google+ pages.

The Society of Psychologists in Management:

an exceptional professional association

Are you looking for a professional association that will help you build your knowledge, makes you feel at home right from the start, and welcomes your ideas?

SPIM is that group, if you . . .

- Lead or manage an organization, or . . .
- Consult to or coach leaders and managers, or . . .
- Teach and conduct research on leadership and management.

In SPIM, you will find an unusual level of intellectual stimulation, camaraderie, and meaningful involvement—a true sense of community.

Conference attendees say:

"SPIM upgrades my professional capacities"

"The SPIM conference helps me run my business successfully"

"Many topics are new and potentially transformative"

"Terrific meetings – jam packed with interesting people and new ideas."

"Conference topics are timely, speakers are top notch"

Intellectual Stimulation

Our annual meeting focuses on high level topics in leadership and management. SPIM recruits outstanding speakers with remarkable stature, experience, and expertise.

Recent examples include:

-  Bill Greehey, Chairman of the Board—Valero Energy
-  Richard Boyatzis, Ph.D., co-author of Primal Leadership
-  Judith Albino, Ph.D.*, President Emerita, University of Colorado at Denver & Health Sciences
-  Robert Sternberg, Ph.D.*, Director of the Center for the Psychology of Abilities, Competencies, and Expertise at Tufts University
-  Ray Fowler, Ph.D.*, former CEO of the American Psychological Association
-  Miriam Graddick-Weir, Executive VP-HR at AT&T
-  Daniel Goleman, Ph.D., author of Emotional Intelligence: why it can matter more than IQ.
-  Joseph Huggins, Ambassador to Botswana
-  Joyce Shields, Ph.D.*, Vice President and General Manager of Hay Group
-  Tom Osborne, Ed.D., Congressman and former Nebraska Head Football Coach
-  Gavin Newsom, Mayor of San Francisco

*Members of SPIM

Camaraderie

SPIM members include leaders of competing consulting organizations. Yet collaboration and mutual enrichment are the rule. Marketing and competition are absent from our meetings. Camaraderie is the order of the day, as our members see it.

"One SPIM member, CEO of a major corporation, noticed that I came alone to the conference and introduced himself, chatted, and then introduced me to three other health care psychologist managers."

"Our profession is isolating. SPIM is the one organization where I can periodically get off the conveyor belt and converse with trusted colleagues about matters that are important to me."

Photos courtesy of Paul Lloyd

Our Mission

The mission of the Society of Psychologists in Management is to facilitate the growth, development, and interaction of psychologists who work as managers or whose primary focus is the application of psychology to management.